Housing for Seniors: Solution for Independent and Community Living

The Programma 400-ALU aluminum bathroom accessories and aids program demonstrates how elegant, thoughtfully designed products can enhance both the appearance and functionality of accessible spaces.

Our barrier-free bathware accessories are thoughtfully designed to create inclusive environments that foster a life without barriers, blending functionality with aesthetic appeal.

Our bathroom accessories help residents thrive by supporting personal health and creating a positive, health-conscious community environment.

Promoting Mobility and Accessibility: Creating Barrier-Free Bathroom Environments

The Programma ART includes a wide range of bathroom accessories which give designer the opportunity to design accessibility without compromising between accessibility and beauty. Its scratch-resistant anodized aluminum bathroom accessories beautifully support inclusion while adding to the space's aesthetic appeal.

One of the key principles in senior living architectural design is creating spaces that promote mobility. Seniors thrive in environments that encourage movement and physical activity.

Designing wide hallways, open spaces, and easily accessible amenities helps seniors stay active and promotes better health.

Enriching Lives Through Design: The Evolution of Senior Living Spaces

CAP is a collection of folding bathroom accessories made from coated aluminum that, when not in use, seamlessly disappear from view. It is this “disappearance” that highlights their true purpose. The design is truly inclusive, as it doesn’t cater to a specific user profile but instead prioritizes the free movement of all individuals, enhancing the overall interior without compromise.

New senior living residences have evolved into modern, luxurious, and inviting spaces for residents to call home. Today’s luxury is defined by simplicity—crisp, clean lines and sleek, contemporary finishes that create a sense of elegance and comfort.

The new generation of seniors expects nothing less than modern, sophisticated design and high-end amenities.
